

2011 NATIONAL EMERGING
ARCHITECT PRIZE WINNER

DR MARCUS WHITE

VICTORIA

NATIONAL JURY:
KARL FENDER (CHAIR)
LINDSAY ORFORD
ANTHONY BAL SAMMO

NATIONAL JURY CITATION:

The jury was overwhelmed with the breadth of experience and dedication to the profession that this entrant exhibited. Dr Marcus White is an architect, urban design, director of his own practise, university scholar, teacher at RMIT and Melbourne University and a research fellow at RMIT SIAL.

His architectural work has been extensively published and exhibited throughout Victoria and he has an impressive list of awards and research grants against his name. A point of difference identified by the jury with this entry was Marcus' demonstration of excellence in practice, research and education that are equally outstanding is competence.

Marcus is active in Australian Institute of Architects forums, is a leader of the profession, and perhaps most importantly for this Prize, Marcus presents a model professional to the emerging demographic whose achievements are an aspiration benchmark.

It is with great pleasure and no hesitation that the jury awards Dr Marcus White the inaugural recipient of the National Emerging Architect Prize.
